CEO MESSAGE

CUSTOMIZATION - THE WAY FORWARD

In today's diverse, yet interconnected world, the major yachting markets of the Americas, Europe, Australia and Japan bring clients with a wide range of preferences. Safety, seaworthiness, luxury and comfort are common requirements, but every client imposes their historical culture, living habits and customs, as well as the geographical features of their preferred cruising grounds on the design. The expectation to incorporate personal style into the yacht is also inherent, particularly when a client is parting with tens of millions of dollars. For these reasons, I believe that yacht customization is a necessity; an unchangeable trend that will remain in current and future markets.

Building a custom yacht is a very difficult challenge, however. Thousands of details go into the construction of every quality yacht, and even the most minor design change or adjustment requires in-depth discussion by an experienced professional team to ensure that safety, comfort, budget and delivery schedule are not compromised. I have seen many shipyards declare their capability and willingness to build custom yachts but then fail due to mis-management and lack of professional procedure for customization.

With 32 years of custom megayacht construction experience, the Horizon Group has evolved to become a proficient custom yacht building organization consisting of specialized factories with efficient and established mechanisms for up-to-date yacht building and integration. In addition to our capabilities for high efficiency customization, we are also proud of our ability to integrate the advantages of each custom yacht and apply them to new yacht builds.

At Horizon, more than 50 in-house designers and engineers oversee the custom design and construction details of every build, and hundreds of our on-site workers have over 20 years of experience each. Our employees are our most valuable assets; it is their contribution that wins the appreciation of every Horizon owner. The accomplishment of producing more than 800 customized Horizon yachts in the past 32 years is testament that Horizon satisfies the yacht owner who defines his dreams.

Fast Displacement (FD)

To achieve a four-stateroom layout with a full-beam, on-deck master and maintain the volume and innovative features that define the FD Series required thoughtful consideration on the part of Cor D. Rover and Horizon's R&D and naval architecture teams. The biggest challenge the team faced was balancing the shorter length with the signature FD Series styling and voluminous interior.

The introduction of the FD70 marks an exciting moment for Horizon, as it expands the series to include a true owner/operator yacht in a very popular size range for Horizon clients. ➡

At the Drawing Boards With Cor D. Rover

The world renowned designer chats about how one yard's willingness to take a risk led to the creation of the most acclaimed yacht series the industry has seen in recent years.

[?] HOW DID THE FAST DISPLACEMENT SERIES COME ABOUT?

Cor D. Rover is not afraid to push the envelope. For over 20 years, the Dutch designer has been behind the lines of some of the most beautiful builds on the water, from 28ft runabouts to 220ft megayachts and everything in between. Innovation and technology are his areas of focus, fueled by a passion for design and creativity. Such creativity was inspired one rainy afternoon in Holland when, as Cor recalls, he and his team were discussing the transition of vehicle preference in Europe from small sedans to SUVs and how to translate the demand for space and looks to yacht design. "We began by looking at how much real estate we could fit in a 24 meter hull," he recalls. Armed with the result: drawings for a beamy 78ft fast-displacement hull with five staterooms, Cor visited the Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show and stopped by the Horizon Yachts booth, where he sat down with CEO John Lu and showed him the drawings.

"John immediately understood our idea and saw the potential for this type of yacht and what it could give to his clients," says Cor. "I was brave to put it on paper, but John was even braver to develop it."

The first of the Fast Displacement (FD) Series to be built was an FD85, which featured a raised pilot-house. Soon after, an American owner commissioned the FD87 Skyline, which saw the FD85 lengthened with the wheelhouse raised to the next deck and even more interior volume added. The FD87 is now the Series' most popular model. Since then, the yard/designer collaboration has involved many more owners bringing their requests for custom features and has seen the FD Series grow to its current complement of seven models, with new clients joining the family in impressive numbers. Such success would never have been possible, says Cor, without Horizon's willingness to innovate. "Horizon is really a fully custom builder," he says. "They are efficient and will reuse hull and superstructure molds that are proven, but I've seen them make so many customizations for their clients."

WILL THE FD
SERIES FORMULA
STAND THE TEST OF TIME?

Of the rainy afternoon inspiration that led to one of the most acclaimed yacht series the industry has seen in recent years, with nearly 20 new-builds sold in a three-year span and counting, Cor says it's a formula that will see long-term success.

"The fact that we sell so many, that more and more people are turning to Horizon, and that other brands like Princess and Sunseeker are following suit with big-volume designs of their own, proves that this concept works."

While the FD85 and larger FD yachts are large boats when it comes to owner operation but still manageable by a family or owners with small crew, the FD77 and the latest FD70 are much more easily handled and are true owner/operator yachts in all respects.

"I find working with Horizon a big, big pleasure, not only for the client but also for me, and I work with many shipyards," says Cor. "It's very exciting to work with them – they never say no, instead they try to find a solution that still guarantees stability and safety. They are one of my favorites."

"Just like Porsche did when creating the Cayenne SUV, we did the same with the FD Series. Now the rest of the market is following us. Volume is king and always will be." ➡

THE MOST REMARKABLE FD
CUSTOMIZATION?

One such request was accommodated aboard the FD85 Julind, which was built for an Australian owner who requested both a telescoping mast to navigate the low bridges in Perth as well as a touch-and-go helipad.

"That was a most unusual request," says Cor. "It was something I had never seen before, but Down Under, people have a different way of life!"

Horizon came up with the technical solution and incorporated a telescoping mast as well as a reinforced carbon fiber hardtop while Cor ensured the aesthetics of the yacht were maintained.

owners seeking that perfect combination of space, performance and entertainment capabilities. Since the launch of the first FD87 in 2018, 16 hulls of this particular FD model have been built, each embodying various customizations that the yard has implemented as standard on the subsequent build. This recently launched Hull 11 has been set aside as an inventory model for the American market and will make her U.S. debut at the 2019 Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show.

2019 Global Horizon Owner Rendezvous Fun & Friendship Down Under

PHOTOGRAPHY: © JIM RAYCROFT

The breathtakingly beautiful destination of Hamilton Island, in Australia's Whitsunday Islands, was the site of the 2019 Global Horizon Owner Rendezvous. Held over four sunny days from September 19 – 22nd, this year's Rendezvous welcomed both new and longtime Horizon owners, friends and families for a weekend of fun, cruising, relaxation and friendship.

THESE PAGES

Thirteen Horizon yachts and nearly 100 owners and guests gathered for a long weekend in the Whitsunday Islands.

Day 1 // Hamilton Island Yacht Club

Thirteen Horizon yachts, ranging in size and model from the Horizon E56 Tiapan to the brand new RP110, The Legion, and nearly 100 Horizon owners and guests from around the world gathered for the four-day event, which began with a welcome “docktail” party and open house where guests received their weekend itinerary and welcome bags. Sunset cocktails and dinner from the scenic Yacht Club Bommie Deck kicked off the weekend.

“The whole experience was absolutely superb on every level. To express how much we all enjoyed ourselves is difficult to put into words.”

THESE PAGES
Celebrating the Horizon life, owners from every continent turned up for the celebratory event.

Day 2 // Whitehaven Beach

Owners and guests boarded the Horizon fleet of yachts in the morning for a group cruise to the world-famous Whitehaven Beach. Recognized as the top beach in Australia, this expansive, unspoiled stretch welcomed guests for a luncheon and a day of lounging, swimming, snorkeling and beach games.

"The Horizon team is world class in their care and commitment to clients."

THIS PAGE

The first full day of the Rendezvous was spent at the stunning Whitehaven Beach.

Day 3 // Catseye Beach

The fun began first thing on the third day, as guests registered for the themed Buggy Parade & Tour. Tasked with getting creative to several theme options, owners showed up for the parade dressed as pirates, crocodile hunters as well as a race car driver and pit crew. Crocodile Dundee was even spotted among the crowd! After a relaxing afternoon, the evening began with cocktails, followed by dinner and dancing at The Outrigger.

THESE PHOTOS
The Buggy Parade at Catseye beach brought out our creative side!

"We have enjoyed the most delicious and beautifully presented food, service that was memorable (especially the catering team at Whitehaven Beach), breathtaking venues that were decorated to perfection, fun, adventure, a wonderful opportunity to meet new friends and make memories that will be cherished."

THESE PHOTOS
After a day of fishing, golfing or snorkeling, owners and guests gathered for the final farewell dinner.

Day 4 // Great Barrier Reef

Fishing, golf and snorkeling excursions sent guests in different directions on the final day of the Rendezvous. Some elected to tick their Bucket Lists by exploring the undersea world of the Great Barrier Reef while others hit the links at the scenic Hamilton Island Golf Course. Still others joined fellow fishermen on the hunt for black marlin, tuna or sailfish for a half-day fishing charter. At the end of a satisfying day, everyone gathered at the resort pool overlooking Catseye Beach for a farewell dinner.

OWNER

The build experience can be as hands-on – or as hands-off – as you want it to be.

EXPERIENCE

Sandy Satullo has been a boater all his life. The former boat dealer and marina owner/operator has experience with boats of all sizes, his own yachts ranging over the years from a 98ft Destiny to a 142ft Richmond. So, when it came time to consider his next yacht, he visited the 2019 Palm Beach Boat Show and came upon the brand new FD77 at the Horizon display.

It was the space and the window plan of the FD77 that struck him first. “It took me a little while to get use to the exterior profile, to be honest,” he says. “I’m a bit more traditional in general. But, the interior is amazing – the amount of space, the openness, the flow, the on-deck master, the windows... It all drew me in and each time I looked at it the exterior started looking better.”

A post-show sea trial on a bumpy day in the Palm Beach Inlet sealed the deal. An experienced yachtsman who enjoys cruising The Bahamas, the Caribbean and the Med, Sandy says he was “blown away” by the seaworthiness and ride quality afforded by the High Performance Piercing Bow and hull design. The conversations to build his next boat with Horizon began.

THESE PAGES

Horizon owners, their broker, and representatives from Horizon Yacht USA join shipyard reps to discuss build details for the FD92.

THIS PAGE
Sandy and Sandra (above) celebrate at the Global Rendezvous. Owners of the FD102 (bottom) tour their full-scale interior mockup.

"I'm an outdoors person, I like to operate the boat outside and enjoy the sunshine," Sandy says. "I wanted the enclosed skylounge, but I also wanted the open air." The discussions continued, Sandy and his broker Jim McConville going back and forth with the Horizon USA team and the yard, reviewing different plans, considering skylights, opening roofs, and opening side windows.

"I don't even remember who said, 'Let's put another deck on top and be done with it,'" says Sandy. But as soon as Horizon's engineers agreed that performance would not be compromised, that's exactly what was decided: a tri-deck version of an extended FD87 hull with a lightweight flybridge.

"Horizon will do as much or as little as you want and you can get as involved as much as you want to," says Sandy. Having been through the process of building a boat enough times to understand what it entailed, Sandy prefers to be involved in the details. Working first with the West Palm Beach office, broad decisions such as colors, patterns and ideas of what they were leaning towards in terms of the interior layout, look and feel were sent to the yard.

Three weeks later, when Sandy, his girlfriend Sandra and Jim entered the Horizon headquarters in Kaohsiung, Taiwan, the Horizon team presented him with options, colors and styles based on his preference list. "I was truly impressed with their organization. It narrowed things down considerably."

Having visited many shipyards around the world, Sandy said his visit to Horizon was a great experience and he was continually impressed with the technology, organization and efficiency. "I would suggest that anybody who wants to build a boat visit the yard," he says. "What was unique to me was the engineering capacity they have to do things in-house. We would be discussing something and fifteen minutes later a naval architect would show up with new drawings with four or five different options for what we had just discussed." Within the yard's design centers, the scope of materials to select, from fabrics and counter-tops to colors, textures, faucets and drawer pulls, was yet another aspect that impressed the seasoned owner. "It's amazing how accommodating the team at Horizon is," says Sandy. "We spent hours designing the aft deck chairs, for instance, and with every little design change we would discuss, within minutes I would have an answer, which was really unique. "Production builders may say they will work with you to personalize your boat, but in the end you only have a couple of choices and can give limited input. Horizon is a custom builder." As Sandy prepared to leave the yard and accompany the Horizon team to Australia for the annual Global Owners Rendezvous, he noticed some drawings that looked familiar. "I pointed them out to John and he smiled and said, 'Well, after we got all of the drawings done with your boat we decided to build one for spec.' I was thrilled that he thought enough of our idea to make it another FD model." And so, the FD92, due to debut at the 2020 Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show, was born. ➡

Horizon Power Catamaran Rendezvous 2019

Sun and Fun in the Exumas

The 2019 Horizon Power Catamaran Rendezvous was held in the glorious turquoise blue waters of the Exumas and saw 12 yachts and nearly 100 guests join the event. Hosted in April, this year's Rendezvous focused on bringing awareness to and raising much-needed funding for the Exuma Cays Land and Sea Park, a non-profit organization that mans and protects the park stretching from Shroud Cay to Cambridge Cay in the Bahamas. Unaffected by the recent Hurricane Dorian, this park has long served as a valued destination for all of our owners, each of whom have a vested interest in preserving the pristine reefs and prolific sea life that make this region such splendid cruising grounds.

Day 1 // Warderick Wells

At its headquarters in Warderick Wells, the Park hosted a beachfront lobster luncheon, after which a “rather raucous” auction attended by Horizon PowerCat owners and guests succeeded in raising nearly $90,000 for the non-profit Exuma Cays Land and Sea Park.

Day 2 // Shroud Cay

Goodie bags were delivered to each of the attending yachts this morning, after which owners and guests gathered on the beach in the head of the bay for an afternoon BBQ. Attendees enjoyed South African sausage rolls and buckets of Taiwanese beer while playing beach games and water sports. The captains assembled the yachts for our iconic “Raft UP” pictures and guests toured the new yachts in the fleet and posed for the PC Family pictures while sporting this year’s souvenir rash guards.

Day 3 // Pearl Island and Chubb Cay

Back aboard the boats for a leisurely cruise to Chubb Cay, our group made a pit stop at Pearl Island, just off Atlantis near Nassau. This island made for a perfect venue for an amazing Bahamas-style luncheon, which was kindly hosted by Alliance Insurance. Guests enjoyed this very special little destination, lounging in beach cabanas or climbing to the top of the lighthouse to take in the spectacular views before continuing on to Chubb Cay.

Day 4 // Chubb Cay Club

With their PowerCats all lined up together on a dock, the owners made good use of the fabulous facilities at Chubb Cay Club. Many lazed around the pool, some went fishing, and a relaxing afternoon was enjoyed by all. The crazy hat cocktail party by the pool kicked off the evening, followed by a formal dinner generously hosted by Marine Professionals Inc. (MPI) with a delightful selection of wine graciously provided by Yacht Repairs and Maintenance (YRM). Our resident musician, George, provided the evening’s entertainment.

THIS PAGE

From the crazy hat cocktail party (left) to simple relaxation with friends old and new, fun was had by all.

SUPPORT THE BAHAMAS

Following the devastation wrought by Hurricane Dorian in the Abacos and on Grand Bahama island in September, Horizon Yachts loaded the Horizon E88 Wild Duck with nearly $10K worth of insulin, 10 generators and a salon full of supplies and journeyed from the U.S. office in Fort Lauderdale to Hope Town, to make a delivery of these much-needed supplies.

While these areas of the Bahamas will continue to rebuild, the many other beautiful islands and cays in the island country remain intact. The country relies heavily on tourism so we encourage everyone in the Horizon family to consider The Bahamas for your winter cruising destination this year!

Day 5 // Chubb Cay Club

There was much excitement in anticipation of the day's fishing competition, and, although the fish did not cooperate, two brave boats tried their luck and had fun in the process. That afternoon, the dock buzzed with activity as owners and crew dressed their yachts for the themed yacht event and the transformation was nothing short of jaw-dropping. Our judges, Laura and Spencer, faced the arduous task of visiting each yacht and assigning the awards with professionalism and bravery. It was no easy feat, but in the end, Seaglass, Jabulani and Hye Life came out on top.

Dressed to the theme of the Wizard of Oz, the 74' Seaglass nabbed first place for "Most Work", recognized for presenting a yellow brick road and all of the characters from the film, including a flying monkey – well represented by the Captain, Jamie, dangling off the side of the boat from the dinghy crane. Jabulani took home the "First Place" prize for their Gilligan's Island theme. The owners and crew went all out with the décor, even recreating the opening credits from the television show with their own faces on their characters. Taking a more serious approach, Hye Life won the "Most Original" award for finding humor in an unfortunate event that befell the boat earlier in the season. Dressed in the theme of a lightning strike, the crew and owners poked fun at the circumstance with creative banners and funny hats. Stone Crab cracked fresh on the dock was once again a delight for all of the non-vegans in attendance (vegans were fed too), while guests danced the evening away to George on the dock.

With another Horizon Rendezvous in the books, memories made and new friendships formed, from all of us at the Powercat Company, we extend our heartfelt thanks to our owners, their guests, and everyone who contributed to make this event a tremendous success. Your support means the world to us. ➡

Horizon E75 Down Under: The Sydney International Boat Show

Docked in a prominent marina position, the latest Horizon E75 made its world debut at the 2019 Sydney International Boat Show in August. A model continuously in demand in Australia – thanks to its sleek styling, spacious interior and excellent performance – this latest E75 features an Enclosed Bridge configuration, which incorporates a day-head and interior lounge area aft of the helm. Within an 18'6" beam, the E75 offers three en suite staterooms, including a full-beam master, with separate crew quarters aft of the engine room. Entertaining areas are found throughout, and the boat deck houses a wet bar with three bar stools and a BBQ grill with plenty of room for tender storage aft. Outfitted with twin CAT C18 ACERT 1150hp engines and an 1,800 gallon fuel capacity, the E75 skylounge motoryacht comfortably achieves a top speed of 25 knots.

A remarkably well-rounded yacht, the E75 blends luxury and style with functional design in a classic flybridge motoryacht, and is available in a variety of configurations including Enclosed Bridge, Open Bridge or Cockpit with many options for owner customization. Incorporating Horizon's advanced composite construction technologies, well-planned layouts, and modern and spacious interior design options, the E75 is equally suited for the first-time yachtsman as well as the mid-level yacht owner who is ready to ease into something larger. ➞

Upcoming Boat Show: Next-Generation Showcase Planned for FLIBS

VISIT
OUR DISPLAY

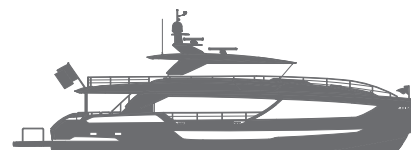

RED ZONE F DOCK,
SLIPS 600-606

From October 30 – November 3, owners, enthusiasts and more will gather in Florida for the 60th annual Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show, and Horizon will be on hand to unveil a showcase of brand new yachts designed for the next generation of yacht owners. Located in the Red Zone, F Dock from slips 600 – 606, Horizon Yachts' display will comprise the debuting FD77 Open and FD77 Skyline yachts, an FD87 Skyline, and the E56 sport yacht, OMA.

The next-generation FD Series, in both design and technology, has seen impressive sales in the three years since it was first introduced, with 20 FD Series yachts already sold to buyers in the U.S., Europe, Australia and Asia. Both an Open and a Skyline version of the latest model in the series – the FD77 – will debut at the show, giving visitors the opportunity to experience the design and layout differences between the two.

WHAT'S ON DISPLAY

FD87 SKYLINE

LOA: 90' 1" (27.45M)
BEAM: 23' 3" (7.11M)
GUESTS: 10 IN 5 STATEROOMS
ENGINES: 2 X MTU 1600HP

Embodying the versatility and space that characterizes the FD Series, the FD77 Open (Hull One) has been specified for the American market and features a four-stateroom layout with an on-deck master and beach club – a unique addition for a yacht of this size. Three additional ensuite staterooms on the lower deck comprise of two VIPs – one forward and another to port – alongside a twin that converts to a double.

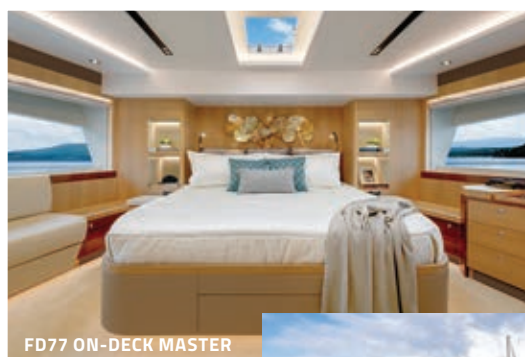

Also on display is the FD77 Hull Three, which has been specified with a Skyline (enclosed bridge) configuration. Incorporating many of the same exciting features as the FD77 Open, the FD77 Skyline offers four staterooms, including an on-deck master suite. Three additional guest staterooms are found below deck – one VIP cabin at the bow, one large guest cabin amidships, and a twin cabin.

Offering a five-stateroom layout with an on-deck master and enclosed skylounge, the new FD87 Skyline incorporates superyacht amenities into its voluminous design. Crew quarters and four spacious guest staterooms outfitted in elegant Light American Oak reside on the lower deck.

The exterior areas of each Horizon FD Series yacht are maximized, and the foredeck area aboard the latest FD87 Skyline has been designed with a settee and dinette, sprawling sunpad, and large u-shaped seating area forward. Aft of the enclosed skylounge on the upper deck, a bar with stools, a dinette and lounging area and a barbecue invite al fresco relaxation. A fully equipped beach club and Hi/Lo swim platform are standard.

Rounding out the showcase for the entry-level yachtsman, the Horizon E56, OMA combines performance and interior amenities for sporty luxury on the water. Offering three spacious staterooms, the classically styled yacht boasts a sleek exterior profile that hints at her under-the-water performance, which is augmented by bow and stern thrusters and a twin CAT C12.9 850hp engine package.

Nestled on the southwestern coast of Taiwan, the vibrant city of Kaohsiung represents a juxtaposition of manufacturing and cultural tourism. Colonized by the Dutch in the 1600s, the city was modernized and developed rapidly under Japanese rule, which ended after World War II. Steel and petrochemical industries continue to flourish, and Kaohsiung now also serves as the epicenter of a variety of industries, including yachtbuilding in the Far East. Today, the Port of Kaohsiung is the largest and busiest harbor in Taiwan, and the combination of natural splendor, gastronomy and culture make this city a bustling gem on the sea.

The Port of Kaohsiung

One of the world's busiest ports, the Port of Kaohsiung has been designated by the Kaohsiung City Government as Asia's New Bay Area. A series of building projects in the area are underway to bring art, music and culture together in a vibrant architectural center meant to serve as a cultural and visitor landmark while still celebrating the industry what allows Kaohsiung to flourish. Visit the Horizon City Marina, the Kaohsiung Maritime Culture and Popular Music Center, and the Pier-2 Art Center.

At one time the site of an abandoned warehouse, Pier-2 was discovered by a group of artists who transformed the space into a fine art showcase, where artistic warehouse clusters and an Operation Center provide space for budding and established Taiwanese artists to showcase their talents. Managed by the Kaohsiung City Bureau of Cultural Affairs, the center is now the headquarters for artistic development in southern Taiwan and provides exhibitions and festivals throughout the year underscoring this city's transformation into an attractive cultural hub.

The Lotus Pond and Temples

One of the most picturesque attractions in Kaohsiung is the Lotus Pond, a man-made lake teeming with lotus flowers and surrounded by colorful temples and sculptures. Here, the Dragon and Tiger pagodas invite visitors to enter through the Dragon's mouth and exit through the Tiger's mouth to ensure good fortune.

Fo Guang Shan Buddha Museum

Buddhism, Taoism and Christianity make up the prominent religious beliefs in Taiwan, and no trip to Kaohsiung is complete without a visit to the Fo Guang Shan Buddha Museum. This Mahayana Buddhist cultural, religious and educational museum is one of Taiwan's top 10 landmarks and houses one of the tooth relics of Sakyamuni Buddha, the founder of the Buddhist faith. Eight pagodas representing a human idea – such as education, goodness and giving – lead to the Front Hall housing the museum, shops and restaurants. Peppered with shrines, exhibition spaces and galleries, as well as the 48 Underground Palaces not open to the public, this space is truly a site to behold.

Sizihwan Bay

The amount of breathtaking natural sites throughout the island of Taiwan are not well known to most Westerners. Known for beautiful sunsets and natural reefs, Sizihwan Bay is one of Kaohsiung's most romantic destinations. Home to one of Kaohsiung's two beaches, Sizihwan Bay is the preferred site for surfing and windsurfing and is fringed by coral reefs. Situated within proximity of the former British Consulate museum, Sizihwan Bay calls for a romantic stroll as the sun sets.

Night Market

Be you an adventurous foodie or not, a visit to a night market is a must while in Taiwan. Kaohsiung has its share, the two most popular being the Ling Ya and Rui Feng Night Markets. From food stands to fruit and vegetable markets, shopping stalls to seafood, poultry and much more, a stroll through a night market is a sensory experience. Wondering which foods to try during your visit? We recommend a milk tea, sweet potato balls, bubble tea toast, mochi and, of course, dumplings! ➞
